

Fairmount Playground Renovation Community Meeting Two MINUTES

Wednesday, January 6, 2010
6:30– 7:45 p.m.

High Point Branch Library
3411 S.W. Raymond St., Seattle, WA 98126

Introduction: A project introduction was given by the Project manager Kelly Davidson. The total project budget including design, administration and construction is $170,000. The scope of the project is focused on replacing the outdated play equipment with new equipment that meets all safety standards and provides access for all users. The project is currently in design and is expected to be in construction May – August 2010.

Presentation: Pamela Alspaugh, Sr. Landscape Architect provided a presentation of two designs. Both designs replaced

Community Discussion:

Priority Items:

- Beach and Water (#1)
- Plaza and seat wall (#2)
- Slides
- Trees
- Benches
- Logs
- Rocks
- Spinners
- Chimes
- Turning point

Comments

- Like climbing structure
- Like waves and material
- Expanded seating area is nice
- Is there a cost impact to the rubber material? What's the lifespan of the material?
- Like the full design with additional funding.

Requests

- Would like two baby buckets (later called to change to one baby bucket)
- Three benches over picnic tables would be good. (like the Ercolini "seats")
- Extra rocks for sitting
- There should be at least one slide on the ferry to create a loop.
- The seating wall should be smooth enough to sit on.
- Could there be a set of baby swings by the ferry?
